On our Cover by Holly Moore

The New Year has arrived and with it the promise of a fresh start. It's the beginning of nature's cycle reminding us all that we can change, giving us a chance to do things differently and make our lives better. Start this year off right with a fresh outlook on the upcoming year. Don't be afraid of change, more often than not change spurs new and exciting things.

The days are slowly growing longer but not fast enough. January and February are months where people need to get out as much as possible to avoid what's known as "Cabin Fever". Until the weather breaks and the days are longer it is easy to want to stay inside. In doing so people often experience a form of depression that's caused by a lack of sunshine and fresh air. The key is to get outside as much as possible. Make plans to get out for some fun and exercise. MWR has many activities planned for January to help combat the winter blues.

Experienced skiers & snowboarders will find some of the finest slopes in the country nearby. Parks and Recreation offers discounted tickets and free ski days to a number of the top slopes. The local ski area, Dry Hill, offers the Fort Drum Community an opportunity to ski with a free lift pass on Friday, January 6 from noon till 5 p.m. Active duty military, their family members, and DoD employees may show their ID card at the pass window to receive a free lift pass. Parks & Recreation will help you out with equipment for just $6 for the day. It is recommended that you reserve your ski or snowboard package early to avoid long lines at the check-out counter. Tubing is also available at Dry Hill Ski Day for an additional fee.

Every Tuesday meet at Parks & Recreation for cross country skiing for $7. This fee includes equipment and a hot lunch. The P & R Staff will fit you for rental skis, give you a lesson, and guide you through the trails on the North side of post. These sports offer a great cardiovascular workout while offering the opportunity to enjoy the beautiful North Country covered in a blanket of snow. (See details on page 9 for all of Parks and Recreations winter activities).

When the weather is too severe to be outside there are many activities going on in the Arts and Crafts building. Classes are being offered for Pottery, Sewing, Quilting, Woodworking, Stained Glass and Jewelry to help fill the many hours spent indoors. Details on these classes and others may be found on page 7. The Pine Plains Satellite Gym is also located in the Arts & Crafts building for that much needed exercise during the winter months.

The North Country offers a number of winter activities to keep you busy. Whether you are an experienced downhill skier or it just looks like something you would like to try, this is the time and the place for you.
